

THE OIL OCTU- PUS.

AND HOW IT THROTTLED KANSAS.

Encouraged Farmers to Develop Fields, Then Cut the Price of Crude—Raised Freight Rates, But

Kept Up the Retail Price Until Refiners Stared Producers in the Face.

Two questions suggested by the Kansas uprising against the Standard Oil Company concern the cause of it and the chance of a State oil refinery proving an effective remedy.

The offenses charged against the Standard included oppression of the producers, exorbitant prices charged consumers, manipulation of freight rates and out-throat competition.

For most of the trouble that has come to it the trust can thank the Kansas Oil Producers' Association.
It was organized Jan. 19, and is composed of clear headed, courageous Americans who were threatened with heavy losses and, perhaps ruin through the tactics of the trust.

Determined to fight for their rights, they organized to make effective the sentiment in the State against the trust. If E. West, of Peru, was elected President.

At the headquarters of the organization
West and some of his associates told of their experience with the Standard.
Three or four years ago, they said, the trust devoted $500,000 to the development of the field in Southern Kansas, but failed to get good results. It encouraged farmers and others to take up the work of development.
The price of oil was advanced from 90 cents to $1.38 a barrel, and a well-developed boom was the result.

A few months ago the trust talked of overproduction, and the price was gradually reduced to 70 cents. The producers noticed, however, that while the price of crude oil had been reduced nearly 50 per cent, refined oil sold at the same old rate.

Consumers noticed that they were not getting any benefit from the discovery of oil in the State.
The price was the same as in the days when kerosene came from the Producers also began to act in the matter of transportation.

Railroad freight rates were advanced to such an extent that they had to give up contracts for furnishing oil as fuel to manufacturers in the cities.

These prohibitive rates were applied when the Standard Oil Company completed its pipe line, last August. The law offender seemed to have been the Santa Fe system, to the Directorate of which two Standard Oil magnates were added at the last annual meeting.

While the Standard had to ship by rail, the rates were so low that all producers could ship at a profit.
When the pipe line was completed they could not ship at all. They had the choice of keeping their oil or selling it to the Standard at any price the latter chose to pay. They had been encouraged by the Standard to invest all their available money in oil property, and the combination of low prices for crude and high freight rates placed them in a hard position.

The Standard's influence over the railways has been demonstrated in rather an interesting manner by the fact that the pipe line was laid in the railroad right of way.

After the completion of the pipe line freight rates from the field to Kansas City were raised from $45 to $85 a car. A car load of oil would be handled by the company over the same route for $25. The company's liability for the loss of a car of oil is $1,200, for a car of oil $150. The rate on a car load of strawberries was $80.

There is an independent refinery at Humbolt. In order to crush it the Standard, in the market reached by that refinery, has reduced the price of kerosene to a few cents a gallon.

On Feb. 9 the officials of the Standard announced they would buy go more Kansas oil. Many men were thrown out of work. It is supposed that this action was taken in an effort to intimidate the oil producers and the Legislature.

It had the opposite effect.

The Legislators decided they would not be frightened and the indignation caused among the people increased the number of supporters of the bill. The producers are confident that the State refinery enterprise will be a success.

They say that a barrel of refined oil can be produced for $2.69. The Standard receives in this State about $10.60. The railroads get $2, and the Standard's profit is $6 a barrel. It is therefore calculated that the State can make a big reduction in the price of oil. The producers also say that fuel oil at 76 cents a barrel equals coal at $2 a ton. The average rise of coal in Kansas is $4.50 a ton. With fuel oil at $1.50 a barrel it would be cheaper than coal for the consumer, and the price would be very profitable to the producers. The maximum freight rate bill, the producers say, will open a great market for their oil.

The bill has also attracted independent refiners of the State. They propose, if assured reasonable rates by the railroads, to open refineries in opposition to the Standard Company.

Friends of the new legislation predict that the State refinery will be in operation within a year.
They say that if the refinery bill is attacked in court a final decision can be secured in about 3 months, and that about six months will be required to construct the plant. It will be managed by the Warden of the penitentiary.

The working force will include several experts and a score of convicts.—Jacob Waldeck, in Cincinnati Post.

And Old Fashioned Remedy.

Owing to the prevalence of pneumonia and the great mortality which attend this disease. Boards of Health in different communities in the older States of the union are advocating the following remedy for the ailment: Take six to ten onions according to size and chop fine. Put in a large frying pan over the fire then add to same quantity of rye meal and sugar enough to make a thick paste. In the meantime stir it thoroughly, letting it simmer five or ten minutes. Then put in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs and apply to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. In about ten minutes change the poultice, and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger. This remedy is said to have been formulated many years ago by a New England physician who never lost a patient by the disease. It seems to us that the remedy is worth trying in an emergency, or until a physician arrives, and we give it for what it is worth.

MORBID

FEAR OF POISONING PERVADES IMPERIAL PALACE.

Dogs, Rabbits and Sheep Kept on Hand to Test Safety of the Edibles.

The confinement to which the Imperial family is subjected on account of the revolution is telling on all of them, but particularly on the Czarina's little girls, who are no longer allowed to go out with their father, about the park with their dogs and tame animals.

The Czar himself ordered that the children should never be allowed outside the palace doors when he is taking the air. Remembering the sad fate of the little Princess of Hesse, who swallowed the dose of poison intended for him he fears to risk his children's life if he should go out in their company.

OLD CZARINA COOKS FOR FAMILY.

The Dowager Czarina, who learned to cook while protecting the life of her husband, Alexander III, has once more turned cook. She is assisted by an expert chemist, and has a little herd of dogs, common, everyday mongrels, rabbits and sheep to experiment on. Preferably, the Imperial family uses only groceries, wines, etc., that come in sealed boxes from Berlin, London and other capitals. If native goods are employed, they are subjected to a double test. First,
the chemist takes them in hand;
secondly, quantities are fed to the various "trial animals." If the chemist and rabbits agree that the stuff is non-dangerous, then the Czar and his little family are permitted to eat in comfort.

Of course, her majesty cannot manage the cooking for the whole Imperial household, and so most of the courtiers, ladies and gentlemen, receive their board in cash now.
Many of them have turned cooks on their own account, while some obtain their food in the Imperial kitchen and take chances at being poisoned.

At M. de Witte's suggestion, the Czar has dispensed with game, of which he is extraordinarily fond, as it would be very easy to poison the carcasses in transit. To obtain fresh meat without troubling St.
Petersburg butchers that might be bribed by the revolutionaries, a herd of cattle, oxen, calves and sheep has been installed at the country place. The Czar's body country do the butchering, and the meat is kept in refrigerators under double guard, like crown jewels.

SERVANTS AFRAID OF THEIR LIVES.

The coachmen of both Plehve and Grand Duke Sergius having died in consequence of the attempt upon their masters, the Czar's body servants are in a panic, and the pleases otherwise much sought after would go begging if vacancies occurred now. As it is, the servants immediately attached to the Imperial person are constantly asking for leave of absence, claiming illness, etc. Not only the head that bears a crown lies uneasy, the very men and women that make the bed and wash the linen are nearly scared out of their wits.

Republican Paper for Madison- ville.

The desire for a newspaper for the Republicans of Hopkins county is to be realized at last, as Editor Mc-Donald, of the Hopkinsville Messenger, has been in Madisonville for several days, and it is stated that he will move his plant from Hopkinsville to Madisonville at once. He says he will issue an up-to-date weekly paper.

LADY EUCRE PLAYERS ARE IN TROUBLE.

Grand Jury Causes Uneasiness to Clubs.

Seven prominent society men of Nicholasville, Ky., were summoned before the grand jury March 8th to tell what they know about the games of progressive euchre that have been played for prizes and which the grand jury is investigating.

RESULT OF SERMONS

The moral wave which is sweeping over this community is the result of a series of sermons preached there by Prof. H. L. Calhoun, of the Kentucky University, which have stirred the Christian people deeply.
The summons came as a thunderbolt from the clear sky and society is agog.

WOMEN TO BE SUMMONED.

It is reported that many other members of the progressive euchre clubs will be summoned before the grand jury and that among the list of names made out are some of the most prominent society women of Jessamine county. Those summoned before the grand jury were:
Messrs Benjamin Hemphill, Morgan
Sparks, Henry Hemphill, Brown
Buford, Weiden Simpson and Frank Smith.

New Way of Raising Tobacco.

Two plants, one of tobacco, the other of corn, may be the solution for raising the finest grade of Burley, says the Breckinridge Democrat. At A. B. Beards' tobacco warehouse is a lot of Burley tobacco of fine bright color, said to be equal to the canvass-grown article. It is the product of a Breckinridge farm, where each hill contained a plant of tobacco and a stalk of corn. The corn shaded the tobacco until it has a superior color and texture that will place it among the finest cigarette tobaccos. We are unable to learn the effect the tobacco had upon the corn, but can see no reason why, with plenty of fertilizer, the corn yield would be materially decreased. Farmers may well make inquiry into the matter and experiment in this double crop growing. To grow two large crops where heretofore but one could be produced is a question of profound importance in farm economies.

What the United States Spends on the Navy.

In the recent discussions over appropriation bills the following was reported from Washington:

Senator Carmack led the attack upon the administration for the Democrats. "We are spending more money for our vanity and for display in building new ships than we spent upon our navy for the preservation of the Union," he said.
"Internal improvements, river and harbor work, are being sacrificed to this great idol of the navy. The same is true of public buildings.
Within the last three years the government has spent more for the navy than has been spent in the construction of public buildings in the country from the beginning of the government to the present time.
A nation that is economically strong is best prepared for war.
There is no nation in the world that would dare attack the United States, even though we did not have a single battle ship or a soldier under arms."

On account of the popularity of the navy in the West there was some surprise when a northwestern senator and a Republican took stand against the President's policy. "The building of a mighty navy that is to overawe all the other nations of the world is a policy so opposite to the policy of all administrations of all parties in our past history that I deem it a privilege as well as a duty to give expression to my ideas," said Mr.
McCumber of North Dakota. "The $108,000,000 appropriation carried by the naval appropriation bill this year means $200,000,000 in a very few years. The audacious demands of the Navy Department for the last four years are no longer entitled to consideration. All appropriations of an internal character are lopped off because we are too poor to spend money. We cannot fulfill our treaty obligations with the Indians because of enforced economy. We cannot pay our honest debts, because if we do we will overdraw our account. We cannot build public buildings all over the country because we need the money for the construction of the mighty battle ships. It is estimated we are paying 17 per cent,
upon the valuation of the buildings we rent because we have no money to erect necessary buildings.

"No country goes to war until it has contemplated the financial results of its action. No nation in the world would ever make war upon us until we were absolutely the aggressor."

Some Good Reasons Why Women Should Vote.

Mr. Will Crooks, M. P., has introduced a bill in the English Parliament giving women the right to vote at all parliamentary elections.
In giving his reasons for the support of this bill, he says:

"In all my work I am at making the people self-reliant, able to think and act for themselves. Therefore I want the women to have the power and responsibility which the possession of the vote gives. It is by this rather than by any consideration of how their votes will be used, that I am moved to demand the enfranchisement of women. At the same time I believe that the cause of progress has nothing to fear from the reform in question.
We entrust to women, as teachers, and as mothers, the all-important work of educating the future citizens. How absurd, then, to hesitate to give to those same women the rights of a citizen."

Kind words are so cheap that it is a wonder anybody will take the trouble to think up the unkind ones.

Is The Government Just To Its Women.

I defy any man who prizes his right to vote to give any good reason why the average, intelligent, conscientious, law-abiding and tax-paying woman has not the same equitable right to a voice in the government that he insists upon having. There is not one of the tenets of our theory of government which justifies man's claim to recording at the polls his will as a freeman, which does not guarantee in theory the right of every free woman to record her will at the polls.

I once saw a dozen ladies undertake to exercise what they had been advised was their right. The inspectors, refused to receive their votes and the ladies quietly turned away. While the discussion was going on, an old pauper stood by, intently interested. His large family had been a charge upon the town for years. These very women had given of their time and money to preserve that family from cold and starvation; had paid taxes year after year to enable the poor-master to honor the drafts of the old pauper. And yet as those ladies turned sadly away with their ballots still in their hands, the face of the besotted old pauper was in smiles. He had been declared their superior before the law. All their knowledge, their piety, their philanthropy, their ardent patriotism, their right naught in the scale, when weighed against the attribute that he was a male.
No depth of mental, moral or physical degradation could disenfranchise him. No height of learning, refinement, loving service to humanity or peril for their country, could by any possibility enfranchise them. And when I saw that old wretch laugh and realized the outrageous injustice of the law, I decided that while I had a voice and a vote, they should be given at every opportunity to terminate that wrong.—Hon. Louis McKinstry.

Guns Made of Paper.

The Krupp Company at Essen, Germany, are turning out field pieces made of paper. They have half the lightness of forged steel, but will endure an equal strain.
They are mounted on light carriages to be drawn by infantry. In as durable as stone. The pulp is

WILL GET RIGHT.

Mr. Hovverdale, of the Campton Courier, takes a bit at Eastern Kentucky Missionaries through Miss Wright, who is located at Cannel City, and says some very hard, uncalculated things. All such hard workers as Miss Wright receive the most meager support and that, too, from the charities of christian people off the fields. These saints are converted people; they really love the Lord Jesus, and for this reason they go to work to save others just as they have been saved; not for money sake but for Christ sake. Louisville has her mission stations and workers are in the field as Miss Wright is at Cannel City, and so at Lexington, Morehead, Farmers, Olive Hill and the world over. Were it not for these needs there would be no use for State, Union or Foreign Missions. Miss Wright loves the souls of the mountain people as she does those of all other people because she is a truly converted woman and hence here is a life of toil and sacrifice for Jesus sake. What she is doing is made possible by the young people's organizations of the State whose desire it is that the gospel be preached to all creatures. When editor Hovverdale understands Miss Wright's mission he will doubtless become one of her most ardent supporters.

WHISKY DRINKERS NOT WANTED

Gov. Hovverdale, the newly elected executive of Indiana, announces that he will appoint to office only total abstemious. Whisky drinking unfits a man for any place demanding a gentleman and reliable business qualities. The time has come for a whisky drinker to ask good and clean people to entrust to him their money, their good names or their offices.—Baptist Argus.

The Governor has set an example worthy of imitation by the Governor of Kentucky and of every other State. A favorable indication for better conditions is manifest. Satisfactory service can not be given by men whose minds and bodies are beclouded, diseased and debased by sinful indulgence and the lack of self-control. We hope that Governor Beckham will see to it that no drunkards will be appointed to office and that drunkards who now fill appointive offices will be sidetracked. For nearly two years we have been restless because a man who held (and still holds) an important position in control of a State institution, was so drunk that he reeled to and fro in the city of Lexington, and at a reception in that city at the private residence of a prominent citizen was so drunk that he was in a stupor, unable to talk, talk or sit erect. We pined the man, but really were not much surprised, for we had seen, with our own eyes, at a banquet given at the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum a special table set apart for the serving of drinks which indicated by their aroma that they would produce drunkenness.

We hope to see the time in the near future when intoxicants will not be served at receptions given by State officials in charge of State institutions, and when men who get drunk will not be appointed or elected to office. The appointive and elective powers are honored or dishonored by those selected to preside over institutions, enact or execute laws.

Give us clean men.

BETTER STREETS.

If other cities of the same population as St. Sterling, with much smaller resources, can build and pay for vitrified brick streets, with like retrenchment Mr. Sterling can do the same thing. Our Council had as well get down to work, for it is not so much what officers shall be chosen to execute the laws of St. Sterling as it is what disposition is made of the people's money. The pay for hauling on rock and off mud is too expensive, besides the inconvenience of slush in the winter and dust in the summer. The people demand that their money should be wisely expended and that they have a right to do.

"BE YE DOERS."

When President Roosevelt was inaugurated his lips touched a passage in the Bible peculiarly in keeping with his character as a man of action. The passage is found in the epistle of St. James, first chapter, twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth verses: "But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves."

"For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like a man beholding his natural face in a glass."

"That the President has become a 'doer' of the trusts and that they must conform to laws, the more significant is this Bible language, which was opened by chance on inauguration day."

JERUSALEM LIFE ANOMALY.

Many Strange Things Found by Tourists in the Famous Old City.

Life in Jerusalem, according to Miss A. Goodrich Freer, the author of "Inner Jerusalem," is one of anomalies and anachronisms. The street arab speaks three or four languages. Apart from the tourists, who are representatives of half of the nations of the world, there are Jews, Mohammedans and Christians. The streets of Jerusalem are unspeakably filthy. One can buy anything he wants in the city. There are even French dressmakers who will follow out the latest Parisian fashion. Water is scarce and mainly derived from cisterns. The rainfall averages only 30 or 40 inches. There is a trade in good water which comes from the village of Ain Karim, some three miles distant from Jerusalem. There is a most unpleasant wind, the sirocco, which is fatal to vegetation, "exhausting to the nerves, irritating to the temper, parching the skin and ruinous to the hair and complexion." The Jews are very clean, but the cure is found in quinine.

Insect pests are the mosquitoes and most particularly the sand flies. One may keep out the mosquito, but the sand fly is at home everywhere. Clothing affords no protection. Flies are everywhere. Winter is more pleasant than summer. Sometimes on a winter evening fire is necessary. After all it is land of perpetual sunshine, the mean annual temperature being 63 degrees. With all its sacredness, Jerusalem is described as a "holy city of sinners." In a holy place the native takes off his shoes and wears his hat. The men sport petticoats and the women expose their legs, while hiding their faces. Carpets are hung on the walls and pictures on the ceiling. There is no apparent gratitude, for in Arabia there is no word the equivalent of "Thank you."

Living is cheap. A good cook can be had by the month for six dollars. Mutton is worth from eight to ten cents a pound, chickens about 25 cents a pair. Fruit is plentiful and reasonable. Considering the economy of living, the author expresses her surprise that so few English live in Jerusalem; "their number being insignificant when compared with the American residents." The population of the city is put down at 60,000, of which 40,000 are Jews.

CALLED WIFE HIS CHATTELS

In Times of Shakespeare a Helpmeet Was Considered a Piece of Property.

In Shakespeare's time a woman's existence, in the eye of the law, was merged in that of her husband. A man could say of his wife: "She is my goods, my chattels; she is my house, my household stuff, my field, my barn, my horse, my ox, my anything." The very presents which he gave her were still his property. He could beat her. He could deprive her of the guardianship of her children. It was not until the end of the seventeenth century that the law secured to her a right to the separate use of her property, and not until the middle of the nineteenth that the legislation of Great Britain and America began to recognize and protect her as a person, entitled to work and receive wages, to dispose of her own earnings, to have an equal share with her husband in the guardianship of their children. Surely it is an immense gain in justice that a woman should be treated as a human being.

This gain is most evident, of course, in those nations which are leading the march of civilization. But, writes Henry Van Dyke to Everybody's Magazine, I think we can see traces of it elsewhere. The abolition of child-marriage and the practical extinction of the antelope in India, the decline of the equally significant fashion of "foot-binding" in China, the beginning of the education of girls in Egypt, are hints that even the heathen world is learning to believe that woman may have a claim to justice.

The writer attended County Court at Owingsville on Monday. En route he read the decision of the Court of Appeals, decreeing by a unanimous vote the jurisdiction of Fayette Circuit Court over that of Breathitt Circuit Court for the trial of the Hargies and Callahan indicted for murder of James Cockrill (see account in another column). This decision emphasizes the fact that, where a crime is begun in one county and ended in another (as the shooting of Cockrill in Breathitt and his dying in Fayette) either county may have jurisdiction, but that exclusive jurisdiction belongs to that county which first begins the judicial investigation.

The people of the State will now be relieved of much suspense and will have hope that law will be supreme; that the pall of darkness, gloom and reproach which threatened us will be rolled back; and that a fair and impartial trial of the accused will establish their innocence or guilt.

What will be the fate of Squire Edwards who permitted himself to be used as a tool for the thwarting of justice future proceedings will develop.

We will watch with anxiety the progress of this lawlessness which has attracted attention in many States.

No innocent man should be convicted. No guilty man should go free. Wealth or political prestige should not shield the criminal.

We do not condemn men for wishing and trying to save themselves from the penalties of violated law, but we have been forced to doubt the real manhood and patriotism of some men who, influenced by money or the hope of political preferment, have perverted justice, winked at crime, and turned loose upon society other men whose hands are red with the blood of their fellowmen or whose lives are full of malice and hatred toward their fellows.

A day of retribution will come, for the Almighty hath spoken it. The attendance at court was large. The stock sales were small. The prices asked for mules were too high.

While in the County Clerk's office we were told that a public meeting was being held in the court room in behalf of the temperance crusade now in progress. We went up to hear and to get items for the Advocate. Dr. Journey Walden was in the chair. Isaac Shouse, merchant of Salt Lick, without consulting us as to the advisability or propriety of what he wished, announced that we were in the audience and would address the assembly. The chairman called out and we accepted, expressing in unmistakable terms our convictions against the legalized sale of whiskey, admonishing the citizens of Bath to do well the part of patriots, and pledging them our sympathy and co-operation.

The next speaker was Rev. Bell, the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Sharpburg. He has spent much of his life in Kansas. He told of the great good which has come to the people of that State by reason of the prohibition laws and their enforcement, and referred briefly to conditions at Colorado Springs, Col., a city of 30,000 people, without a saloon. The chairman then announced that there would be a meeting of the Executive Committee. There are 42 members of this committee, representing the precincts of the county. The prospects for success in banishing whiskey from the county are encouraging. One gentleman said to us that the majority would reach 1,000. A vigorous campaign will be continued and we hope to announce that no longer will the people of Bath county sanction and authorize the existence of a saloon with its train of evil, expense, humiliation, poverty and crime.

When this is accomplished, let not the people think that their work is finished. There will be evasions of the law, resort to deception; perhaps desertion by men supposed to be friendly to temperance principles. The powers of evil are not easily subdued.

We returned home in the afternoon and on Tuesday morning went to Circuit Court in Rowan.

To Upro Low Postage on Rural Route Packages.

Strong efforts will be made to get into law the amendment to the Post-office Appropriation Bill establishing a new rate of postage for the packages handled on rural routes. It provides that a rate of three cents a pound shall be charged on packages up to five pounds originating at the office from a rural route and delivered on such rural route. This new rate of postage is recommended by the Postmaster General, and a demand for it has come from nearly every section of the country, particularly the Southwest.—Washington Telegram to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

President to be in Louisville.

Louisville people will not be treated to a sight of many prominent national dignitaries when the President stops there. Assistant Secretary Harbo, who has the arrangements for the trip in charge, said that Secretary Loeb probably will be the only national character on the train besides the President. It is not the intention of any cabinet official to go along. It is now definitely settled that the President's stop at Louisville will be from 9 to 11 a. m., April 4.

COME IN, SIR!

Next Monday is Court-day, and this week we would have each subscriber to consult the label on his paper, lay aside the money needed to pay up and a year in advance, and then gladden the heart of the public-har Court-day morning by asking for a receipt. If each subscriber would do this we could be easy the entire 12 months ahead and make a better paper than we have ever done before. Come in.

DON'T IT JAR YOU?

It is estimated that the drug trust cost the consumers of drugs $40,000,000 annually. This fact came out in the damage suit of C. G. A. Loder, a retail druggist of Philadelphia, against the National Wholesale Druggists' Association for $100,000. If the retailer has this $40,000,000 to pay then it follows the consumers are compelled to pay this amount to the retailer.

For this condition the Republican party is responsible because they were not only fostered during the administration of this party.

738 PHOENIX PRAYER.

BY EDWARD HOWLAND BELL.

The royal son of David, the King Sought some new sport to launch on,
And in his prayer said: "Sir God, Kneel now and make for me a prayer!"

The joy he sought in sport and bells,
And used the mocking court before,
They said no more he had a smile
Behind the hunted prize he wore.

He bowed his head and bent his knee
To pray, the monarch's spoken word,
His pleading voice arose: "O Lord,
Be merciful to me, a fool!"

"No pity, Lord, could change the heart
From red with wrong to white as wool,
The red must heal the sin; but, Lord,
Be merciful to me, a fool!"

"The net to trap the onward sweep
Of truth and right, O Lord, we say;
The net to hold the sinners,
We hold the truth from heaven away."

"Time clings fast, still in the mire, Gossamer blossoms without end;
There had, well-seeing, been a thrust Among the heart-strings of a friend."

"The ill-timed truth we might have kept—
Who knows how sharp it pierced and stung?
The word we had not meant to say—
Who knows how greatly it had rung?"

"Our faults no tenderness should ask,
The cleansing stripes must cleanse them all;
But for our tenderer—oh, shame,
Before the eyes of heaven we fall."

"Earth bears no burden for mistakes;
Men cover the knees and cover the toes
That did us well. But thou, O Lord,
Be merciful to me, a fool!"

The room was hushed. In silence rose
The King, and sought his garden cool,
And walked apart, and mused how low
"Be merciful to me, a fool!"

FACTS AND OBSERVATIONS

Progressive Euchre Players

On the Run.

The Flight of the Russians Not to Be Compared With It.

We extract the following from a Nicholasville telegram of March 8 to the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"The grand jury of this county will tomorrow tackle one of the most delicate and abstruse problems that have ever been presented for solution by jurymen, lawmen and enforcers of the law. In order that they may have enlightenment on the subject the Prosecuting Attorney to-day caused subpoenas to issue for 5 or more young society men and women."

"The questions in brief are: Is euchre gambling? Is card playing for prizes a crime in the eyes of the law?"

"The issuance of the subpoenas is said to indicate that the county authorities hold euchre playing for prizes among society people is calculated to injure the dignity of the law, and the intention is, it is said, to bring in indictments in case an offense can be proved. The allegation is that the 50 young society people have been playing euchre for prizes at diverse times and places during the cold winter months, mostly in the homes of the parents of the young women summoned before the Court of Inquiry."

We are acquainted with the Commonwealth Attorney, A. B. Crutcher, of Nicholasville. After reading the above we wrote him this letter:

"Mr. Crutcher, Ky.,
March 9, 1905.

"DEAR SIR: I wish to congratulate you on your efforts to suppress gambling by the Progressive Euchre crowd in your city. Color, sex or previous condition of servitude should not shield the guilty. Give it to them! I am with you. You are doing good service for the State. Your course should be followed by other Commonwealth Attorneys."

"Your friend,
"B. W. TRIMBLE."

As article under this heading, "Lady Euchre Players are in Trouble," appears in another column. We ask our lady readers not to read it.

We have at different times expressed our opinion about the playing of card games for prizes and have intimated that such should be investigated by the grand jury. One, just one, experience by the society ladies who play cards for prizes, before the grand jury would direct their thoughts and energies to pursue more elevating and useful. Gambling of all kinds should be suppressed by persuasion, moral training if possible; but when this fails, let the progressive euchre crowd be placed on an equal footing, in the eyes of the law, with colored crap-shooters or the reputed, more high-toned gentlemen.

If a mother plays euchre for a out-glass bowl, etc., why should she complain if her son becomes a gambler?

Report of Sales of Buckeye Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, Cin., for Week of March 4th.

We have sold this week 34 hogheads of tobacco, received principally from Shelby and Henry counties. Mr. Drain sold through us 10 hogheads of tobacco at an average of 87¢. He was well pleased. Mr. R. B. Ellis has sold several through us at an average of 10¢, besides several other shippers. The feature of the Cincinnati market this week were the two fine hogheads of tobacco sold by us. One at 20¢ and the other at 21¢. The 21¢ one was the highest price received on the Cincinnati market this week.

Pipes and Pastors.

"Public opinion allows ministers to smoke," said a tobaccoist, "but in New England for many years it allowed no one to smoke, let alone the clergy. There are men alive to-day who have pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor of smoking on the streets of Boston."

"One town in New England required you to take out a license to smoke. You went to the town hall, paid $1.25 and received a certificate, good for one year, that entitled you to all a smoker's privileges. You had to show this on demand."

"But in the South tobacco was differently regarded. There it was the people's source of livelihood, and in the Eighteenth century it was used for currency. Clergymen were even paid their salaries in tobacco."

"Between 1720 and 1770 there are some quaint entries, in the books of the old churches of Virginia. William Rudd, of Chock-stuck, had a salary of $,000 lbs. of tobacco a year."

"In the parish book of St. Luke's church, Isle of Wight County, there are entries like this:

"To Mr. Barlow, 17 sermons, at 350 pounds tobacco; 59,950 lbs."

"To Rev. J. Reid, salary, 16,000 pounds."

"To ditto for board, 1,500 lbs."

"Tobacco was worth in those days about 3 cents a pound. Thus Mr. Barlow got the equivalent of $10.50 a sermon. Good pay, wasn't it?"

Rumors were rife in Wall street that Rockefeller, Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania interests had agreed on a gigantic consolidation of railroads, into which the Vanderbilt lines were to be taken. He has many acquaintances among the farmers of Montgomery county and they will do well to consign their tobacco to the Buckeye, knowing that they will have a fair and honest deal through Mr. Quisenberry as inspector. 33-4t

Mrs. Chadwick Convicted on Seven Counts—Will ask for New Trial.

Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was convicted at Cleveland on seven counts of conspiracy to defraud the United States by conspiring to procure the certification of checks on a national bank when there were no funds in the bank to her credit. The extreme penalty fixed by law is a fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years on each count. The jury was but two hours in reaching a verdict. When Mrs. Chadwick grasped the meaning of it she sank into her chair. Later she had an attack of hysterics, which lasted fifteen minutes. The woman's attorney made a motion for a new trial. Judge Taylor announced that later he would set a day for argument on the motion.

TERRAPIN MADE SLOW TIME

Animal Is Really Entitled to the Championship for Leisurely Movement.

Thomas S. Stadden, a prominent resident of Wadesville, Clarke county, was in this city recently, says a Winchester (Va.) special to the New York Herald, and brought with him a terrapin which has a remarkable history.

Just 30 years ago, in 1874, Mr. Stadden came across the terrapin on his farm and on the bottom of its shell inscribed the date. Every time since then that he has seen the terrapin he has cut the date on the shell and the entries are as follows: In 1874, 1875, 1878, 1880, 1881, 1882 and 1884.

On the latter date Mr. Stadden carried the terrapin to a spot near Stephentown, two and one-half miles from home, and turned it loose. Mr. Stadden has always held to the theory that terrapin and turtles will try to wander back to the spot of their birth, and to test the theory the terrapin was taken to Stephentown.

That was 20 years ago and during the two decades Mr. Stadden never saw his pet—in fact, he had forgotten all about it until one day recently he came across a terrapin. Turning the terrapin over, he was amazed to find that it was his long-lost pet. There were the dates, the initials placed there from time to time, grown larger with the terrapin, but as distinct almost as the day they were cut.

In order to get back to its usual feeding place under the mulberry tree from which the terrapin had to cross several streams, traverse wooded bluffs, treacherous ravines and cross fields. Twenty years had been required to make the journey of two and one-half miles, but, guided by instinct, the little terrapin had at last reached home.

NILE VALLEY SOIL RICH.

Alternate Layers of Loam and Sand Are Annually Deposited by the Great River Flood.

Drillings made at Memphis near the fallen statue of Remes II, in 1854 by order of the government reached a depth of 41 1/2 feet and revealed the fact the whole consisted of alternate layers of loam and sand, uniformly deposited by the annual Nile floods. From the greatest depth a fragment of pottery was obtained. The regularity and distinctive character of these Nile deposits are so clearly marked that the rate of the accumulation is accurately determined, which is found to be an average of 3 1/2 inches in a century. It thus appears that this fragment buried in Nile mud lay in place more than 13,500 years, and it is safe to say that the Nile valley soil has produced a crop annually during this vast period of time, and how much longer no one can tell. Each crop has been produced by irrigation on a grand scale, exactly what we call winter irrigation in California, which is a deep and thorough soaking of the soil during the wet season when nature is striving to prepare the soil for the crops demanded of it by modern agriculture. It has often been urged farmers to practice winter irrigation, and with reason. Imitate the Nile as far as possible.

Welcome to Chinese Students. It is for the advantage of this country that we should establish the American point of view as widely as possible throughout the Chinese empire. The more this can be done the better it will be for our commerce and the industries upon which our commerce depends. Leaving out all altruistic consideration it is for our own unquestionable interest that we extend American ideas and American influence in the largest measure possible in that land of almost limitless markets, and to do this it would be to our great advantage to encourage high-class Chinese students and high-class observers of our institutions.—Boston Transcript.

Periodic Pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are a most remarkable remedy for the relief of periodic pains, backache, nervous or sick headache, or any of the distressing aches and pains that cause misery to much suffering.

As pain is weakening, and leaves the system in an exhausted condition, it is wrong to suffer a moment longer than necessary, and you should take the Anti-Pain Pills on first indication of an attack. If taken as directed you may have entire confidence in their effectiveness, as well as in the fact that they will leave no disagreeable after-effects.

They contain no morphine, opium, chloral, cocaine or other dangerous drugs.

"For a long time I have suffered greatly with neuralgia, and have almost more than I can endure. These pills have done me more good in half an hour than any other medicine I have ever used. I have been able to get my work done, and I feel better than I have for many months."—J. E. McLaughlin, St. Louis, Mo.

CURFEW BELL
Sounded For First Time in Lexington.

On Wednesday night, March 1, in conformity with the order of Mayor Combs, the curfew ordinance became effective and for the first time in the history of Lexington the sound of the curfew bell was heard warning all "youngsters" under 15 years of age to "turn in."

It is to be noted that in Congress, it has grown to be quite an industry in the Eleventh Kentucky district, and some of the Republicans find it exceedingly profitable.

Dr. Hunter got $2,500 and Edwards and John D. White $20,000 each.

PROF. FALCONER

Superintendent of Public Schools, Watertown, N. Y., Advises All Run-Down, Debilitated People to Take Vinol.

From men of different professions all over the country come such enthusiastic words of praise for our famous cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, that there is absolutely no room for doubt regarding its virtue.

Prof. Falconer writes: "For some time I suffered with general debility and a run down, depleted system. I tried many remedies without benefit; but Vinol has built up my run-down system and made me well and strong. I consider Vinol the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil, the best tonic, strengthener and body builder known to medicine, and I heartily recommend it to every person in need of a good blood tonic and vitality maker."

Our Vinol cures conditions like this because it contains in a concentrated form all the vital principles of cod liver oil, but not a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach and retard its work. Vinol is delicious to the taste.

We guarantee that Vinol will create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, and after a severe sickness as nothing else can.

Vinol will also cure hacking coughs, chronic colds, all throat and bronchial troubles. We return money if it fails. Wm. S. Lloyd, druggist.

Good Health to the Children

Children especially are fond of dainties, and the housekeeper must look carefully to their food.

As good cake can be made only with good eggs, so also a cake that is healthful as well as dainty must be raised with a pure and perfect baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in the preparation of the highest quality of food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., and what is more important, renders the food wholesome and agreeable to young and old.

South Trimble is Talked of for the Governorship.

A Washington dispatch says: "A piece of gossip in Kentucky Democratic circles is furnished by the report that Representative South Trimble, of the Seventh District, may make the race for the gubernatorial nomination in 1907.

"Mr. Trimble himself declines to either affirm or deny the accuracy of the report, but several of his friends who have visited Washington the last week say that he has the bee buzzing, and there need be no surprise if he should formally announce before the coming summer is over.

"The claim is made by Trimble's 'boys in the trenches' that the prominent part he has taken in working up a sentiment throughout the country for the tobacco growers, and securing legislation in the last Congress prohibiting the adulteration of blue grass seed, have given him a strong hold on his district."

What Kind Did You Marry?

In marrying, if the average young man will select for his wife a companion that can go into the kitchen and turn a batter cake, or wring off the head of a chicken, or milk a cow in case of necessity, his life will be one of sunshine and happiness. Boys, unless you have a large bank account and a big income, don't tie yourself to one of these up-to-date girls, who sing for you in the parlor, while her mother perhaps is making new dresses for the daughter. Such a wife would be as a mill stone tied about the neck of the man with a small income.—Ex.

The man who marries a small woman with the idea that her dreammaking bills will not be as large as that of her larger sisters, is due for a big surprise shortly after the honeymoon is over.

"Patience may be bitter experience today, but it will be filled with honey in days that are to come."

No man's good intentions ever boosted him into the hero class.

MRS. HALL'S MIRACLE.

Experiences Similar to This Have Occasioned Considerable Comment in Mt. Sterling.

Few women are better known in Lookport, N. Y., than Mrs. Pattie D. Hall, as she belongs to one of the best families and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. In a recent interview Mrs. Hall said:

"The experience I have been through in the last two years seems like a miracle. I was so badly off that life seemed almost unendurable, and my deafness increased so that I could scarcely hear anything. The suffocation in my chest and the indigestion caused by my catarrh, produced very severe suffering. I had five different physicians, bought everything that anybody recommended to me, but finally gave up in despair.

"One day my milliner asked me if I had ever tried Hyomel. I began the treatment, and on thanksgiving testify that Hyomel does cure this terrible disease. Since using it my hearing is greatly improved, and the only time I have any catarrhal trouble is when I take cold. I then use Hyomel, and always get instant relief. My friends and acquaintances marvel at the change in my health and bearing."

Hyomel has made many cures of catarrh, and in connection with Hyomel balm, of catarrhal deafness, in Mt. Sterling. Similar experiences to that of Mrs. Hall's have created a large sale for Hyomel with W. S. Lloyd.

The complete outfit, including the inhaler, costs but $1, while extra bottles are but 50 cents. Ask W. S. Lloyd to show you the strong guarantee under which he sells Hyomel. Moh 15 Apr 5.

No one can be thoughtlessly kind

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The Information Contained in this Citizen's Statement is Invaluable to Mt. Sterling People.

When a resident of Mt. Sterling, whose statement appears below, who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject:

J. C. Wilder, of 30 Cox street, Lexington, carpenter, says: "My back pained so that I often thought it would actually break. At first I called it lumbago and did not give particular attention to the action of the kidneys. In time the cause of the trouble became so apparent that I tried to cure it by using medicines guaranteed for kidney complaint. I was unsuccessful until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. At the present time I am able to work hard all day and go home at night feeling comparatively well, a condition I was never in before I got hold of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Duerson's drug store and ask what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. —33-31.

ARE THEY ALL MARRIED?

Does a Poodle Bring More Happiness Than a Baby?

The metropolitan dailies state that there are women in New York City who spend $1,000 annually on clothes for their poodle dogs. This same class of women, if they were married, would rather pay $5 for a pair of red top boots for the poodle than 25 cents for a pair of socks for her husband or $3 for suit of clothes for a child. But then the '400's of New York City are very much wedded to their dogs, and have a sort of governor to bathe, comb, curl and perfume their "four-legged darlings," while the hubby no doubt looks on and thinks, "what would I give to be a poodle pup?"

Olympian Co Incorporated.

The incorporation papers of the Olympian Springs Company have been filed with the County Clerk. The Company is capitalized at $60,000.

The capital stock is divided into 2,400 shares at $25 par value. The corporation may continue 50 years and assume $100,000 indebtedness.

While the powers granted by the charter not only authorized the conducting of the health resort and the sale of mineral water, the inauguration of a lively stable and stage line, the boring and mining for petroleum, oil, gas, salt water, coal and other subterranean products, the cutting manufacturing, buying and selling of lumber, the conducting of a general merchandise store and various other projects are contemplated.—Lexington Leader.

The farmer who has not owned sheep for the last three years has been working without a big factor in successful farming. Present prices of mutton and prospective prices for the coming wool crop will bring this forcibly to his notice.

If the soft maple tree is pruned occasionally when small it aids in giving the tree a stockier growth and enables it to overcome the weakness of letting its limbs break down during storms. This is the only objection to this otherwise beautiful tree.

What to do With a Bad Temper.

Starve it. Give it nothing to feed on. When something tempts you to grow angry do not yield to temptation.

It may for a minute or two be difficult to control yourself, but try it.

Force yourself to do nothing, to say nothing, and the rising temper will be obliged to go down because it has nothing to hold it up. The person who can and does control the tongue, hands and heart in the face of provocation is a hero.

What is gained by yielding to temper? For a minute there is a feeling of relief, but soon comes a sense of sorrow and shame, with a wish that the temper had been controlled.

Friends are separated by a bad temper; trouble is caused by it, and pain given to others as well as self.

That pain often lasts for days—even years; sometimes for life. An outburst of temper is like the bursting of a steam boiler; it is impossible to tell beforehand what will be the result. The evil done may never be remedied. Starve your temper. It is not worth keeping alive. Let it die.

It might have been true in Solomon's time that the wicked fled when no man pursued, but in this day and age they usually grab the market and chase the rest of us into a corner.

SLAUGHTER OF MEN.

Russians on the Run.

The dispatches received at St. Petersburg indicate that Gen. Kuropatkin has saved himself from the trap set for him by Field Marshal Oyama. According to these dispatches he is falling back slowly with the main portion of his forces intact, and fighting a rear guard action. On Saturday afternoon he was fifteen miles from Mukden and twenty five miles from Tie Pass. A part of his forces have already reached Tie Pass, but whether any of the units of his army were cut off or captured is not definitely known. The press dispatches say that the Japanese separated the First and Fourth Russian corps and the inference is that they either were killed or captured, as the censor allowed no further reference to their fate. The losses have been enormous on both sides and are roughly estimated at 200,000. An unofficial report from St. Petersburg says Kuropatkin has lost 60,000 prisoners. The confidence of the Japanese is indicated in a statement by Field Marshal Oyama that his forces will pursue the Russians to Harbin. An element of possible danger to Kuropatkin is the army of Gen. Kawamura, which is supposed to be somewhere on the line of his retreat to the north. Its location, however, is not definitely known.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP ITEMS.

Mr. M. P. Skidmore sold his crop of tobacco last week at 10c pound.

The Mayville Bulletin says: "Up to 1880 any field in the good land district of this county would grow hemp, considered the hardest crop to raise. Now likely there is scarcely a field in the county that will bring this crop, owing to the impoverishment of the land by tobacco culture."

J. T. Gudgeon, of Bath, sold to James Day and Chas. Peters, of Fleming, for $107.50 his Jack, Big Joe, aged eight years.

Ladies of the Methodist Church will have an exchange on Saturday before Easter. Place will be announced later.

DOLLS IN BABYLON'S RUINS

Children of Ancient Greece, Too, Are Found to Be Amused with the Playthings.

The first dolls of which there is any knowledge were found among the treasures unearthed from the ruins of Babylon. They are small figures in terra cotta and ivory, beautifully carved and must have been fascinating playthings for the little Assyrian children. The little girls of Syria had mechanical dolls. The arms and legs were moved by pulling strings much after the fashion of jumping jacks.

The dolls the classic Greek children played with were made of wax and clay decorated with bright colors. One kind had movable limbs and its clothes were made to take off and put on. Every doll had a bed of its own. These dolls represented gods and heroes, but whatever they were made to represent they were dressed with loving care by the little Greeks.

As these children married when they were very young they played with their dolls until just before their wedding day. Then they made a sacrifice of all their toys, dolls and clothes included. They dedicated them as a pious offering to some deity. If the little girl died before she was grown up her dolls were buried with her.

Thus it happens that the kind and fashion of dolls which comforted these ancient children is known. All the specimens which are kept with as great care behind glass doors in various museums were taken from some tiny tomb.

WHOLE FAMILY ON A HUNT

Father Had the Rabbits and the Children Slept on the Way to Kansas City.

The hunters are thick on the Kansas City-Leavenworth trolley line. The line offers a cheap and quick way to reach the country and when there is a snowfall the men with guns come out in flocks. There are all kinds, but the rare one is the one who takes his family along. He climbed on a car the other evening about eight miles out of Kansas City. He wore good hunting clothes and boots and a cotton-tail or two was in each of the big pockets in his coat. With him were his wife and two little daughters, one about eight years old, the other probably six. The mother and children were in the pink and white of perfect health. Before they had been on the car ten minutes the younger girl was asleep in her mother's lap. The other rolled for a few minutes and soon she was asleep. The mother, in a heavy fur jacket, held the child close and herself seemed ready to doze. The father, always holding fast to his gun, sat in the smoking compartment, contentedly puffing away at his cigar. The wife was everything, including the rabbits, about the party to show that the afternoon in the woods had been successful. A healthy afternoon at success for the youngsters and an enjoyable one for the father. And the mother showed some grins when she glanced at her husband, looking so brave in his cap and canvas clothes.

Bees Poison Some Flowers.
 At the Kennebunk Conservatory I was looking over the show of plants and flowers when I asked Superintendent Olm if he ever had trouble with bees in his house.

"Yes," replied Mr. Olm, "in the early spring and through the spring months I have a great deal of bother with bees. They dodge into one flower, then into another in which, by sprinkling the pollen of the first flower they destroy the second." For example, a pink bloom into which a pollen-covered bee had flown would close over night, and the only remedy, as Mr. Olm remarked, was to keep a sharp lookout for the bees and get ahead of them by picking the flowers before the bee-hungry pests got a chance at them.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Laocemakers' Wages.

Twenty years ago the wages of Nottingham lacemakers were as high as $30 and $35 a week, and the profits of the employers ranged up to 100 per cent. To-day if a man is working full time he may earn from $12.50 to $20 a week.

HARGISES AND CALLAHAN

WILL APPEAR BEFORE THE FAYETTE CIRCUIT COURT

For the Murder of James Cockrell.

COURT OF APPEALS BY UNANIMOUS VOTE GIVES JURISDICTION TO FAYETTE.

Proceedings by Squire Edwards A Fraud.

On Friday the Court of Appeals in an exhaustive opinion by Judge O'Rear, whole court sitting, refused the application for a writ of prohibition against Circuit Judge Watts Parker on the motion of Judge James Hargis. Senator Alex Hargis and Sheriff Ed Callahan, indicted for the murder of Town Marshal Cockrell, and Fayette county will try the cases.

The decision covers seventeen legal typewritten pages, and sets out the following points raised by the Commonwealth:

First—That writ should not be issued until petitioners have first applied to the Circuit Court.

Second—That Fayette and Breathitt have concurrent jurisdiction, and county first beginning proceedings has exclusive jurisdiction.

Third—Proceedings were first begun in Fayette county.

Fourth—That alleged proceedings begun in Breathitt before January 4 are a myth, or were the result of collusion between the officers, and were originated for the fraudulent purpose of preventing any prosecutions, and were never intended to have been made public except as a defense to the jurisdiction of Fayette county.

DID NOT COME.

Circuit Judge Watts Parker, soon after the announcement at Lexington of the action of the Court of Appeals, received on Friday the following telegram from Judge J. C. Bach, the attorney for the defendants in Jackson:

"Hargises will be in Lexington tomorrow morning to answer indictments."

Later Chief of Police Reagan received a telegram from Judge Hargis, asking that he come to Jackson, as the defendants wished to surrender to him. He was appointed special bailiff, and with Attorney C. W. Miller left for Jackson Saturday morning.

Chief of Police, J. J. Reagan, special bailiff from the Fayette Circuit Court to arrest the Hargises and Callahan, arrived in Lexington at 10 o'clock Monday morning from Jackson in charge of County Judge James Hargis, ex State Senator Hargis, who are under indictment for alleged complicity in the murder of James Cockrell, town marshal of Jackson, in July, 1902.

Elbert Hargis and Edward Callahan, sheriff of Breathitt county, jointly indicted with James and Alex Hargis, did not come. Chief Reagan said that Elbert Hargis went out to his mother's home in the country Sunday afternoon and did not reach Jackson in time to catch the train.

No word was received from Callahan, who was reported to be at his home near Crockettville, about twenty miles from Jackson, but it is now said that he is ill with pneumonia and has not learned of the decision of the Court of Appeals giving Fayette county jurisdiction of the cases.

CONFIDENT THAT WILL COME.

Attorneys for the Hargises expressed themselves as being confident that Elbert Hargis would come to Lexington and surrender either Monday night or Tuesday morning.

and that Callahan would be as soon as he learned of the decision of the Court of Appeals.

TAKEN TO JAIL.

Alex and James Hargis were taken to the county jail, where they remained in the office and consulted with their attorneys and friends. In the evening Elbert Hargis came in and surrendered to the court authorities.

Sheriff Callahan came in and surrendered on Tuesday. Hon. Jerry P. Morton applied for bail, Col. John Allen applied for bail Monday was fixed by Judge Parker for the hearing of argument.

Mormons in Conference in Kentucky.

A special from Owensboro says: "The spring conference of Mormon elders laboring in Kentucky was in session at the Court House here Monday, conducted by Elder Ben Eich, of Chattanooga, President of the Southern States mission; and Elder A. G. Agard, of Louisville, President of the Kentucky mission. Eighteen elders are attending. Charles Smith, of Carter county, was ordained elder. John W. Sprout, of this county, has been ordained as priest. President Agard and Elder Hill will be withdrawn from the mission work and return to Utah. There are 1,200 converts in the country."

Remain at Winchester.

Moss Felner and Sam Fields will continue in jail at Winchester unless ordered to Breathitt by the Court of Appeals. These prisoners were wanted in Breathitt and Judge Riddell, of the Circuit Court, had ordered the jailer of Clark county to bring them into Breathitt. Jailer Boone refused to obey Judge Riddell's orders because of Judge Benton's order, holding them to appear before the Clark Circuit Court for contempt. Jailer Boone asked for a temporary restraining order from the Court of Appeals, which was granted, and to-morrow is the day fixed by the Court of Appeals to hear the case. In the meantime the Breathitt Circuit Court had fined Boone $500 for refusing to obey Judge Riddell's order, and on hearing of decision of Court of Appeals, Judge Riddell made order setting aside said fine.

Good Sale of Tobacco.

On Monday Stanley Arnold put his tobacco crop, for which he had been offered 8c average and which netted 15,500 pounds, on sale at the Burley Loose Tobacco Warehouse Company, Lexington. With all expenses of Mr. Arnold received $225 more by delivering his crop at Lexington than he would have received at home. He is very much pleased with his business with this company. The grades brought the following prices: Leaf, $10.75 to $11.75; logs, $11.75 to $12.00; bays, $7.90; short red, $7.80; long red, $9.35 to $9.90; trash, $9.25 to $10.25; damaged, $5.00.

Of the 150,000 pounds sold on Monday Mr. Arnold received the best prices and out of the entire amount offered, only 5,000 pounds were rejected.

These prices, with Montgomery leading, was glory enough for one day for Mr. Arnold.

conditions. Works, baptism, repentance and faith in their order, the final perseverance of the saints church government, etc. are given a rest. Surely the Millennium days are fast approaching when the lion

will be an effort on the part of the saved, regardless of denominational divisions. From the Presbyterian Church an appointment may be made for another week's service at some other church, and the meeting will, if the experiment of next week is successful, be continued for five consecutive weeks.

special order and measured 8 feet long 5 feet across and 4 feet deep.

transfer was brought about by Rev.
J. R. Hobbs, of the Mt. Sterling
Baptist Church, and J. W. Hedden, of the Mt. Sterling Advocate, at Morehead, through Rev. A. E. Brown, of Asheville, N. C., who has charge of the school work of the Southern Baptist Convention, working through the board at Atlanta with Dr. B. D.
Gray, former President of Georgetown College, at the head.

This transfer means great things for Morehead, Rowan county, and Eastern Kentucky; its influence will be felt throughout the entire State. Behind this institution is a Baptist organization with $300,000 annual income.

The possibilities for this institution are too far-reaching to be calculated, and but for the timely aid of Rev. Hobbs and Editor Hedden the opportunity would have been lost to Eastern Kentucky.

The grounds of Bracken Academy are to be beautified, two dormitories—one for boys and one for girls—of modern designs and accommodations, are to be constructed, and all school apparatus will be added as required, so that Bracken Academy, which has had a hard struggle for life through untiring efforts and conspicuous sacrifices of Dr. L. P. V. Williams, Prof. Sparks, Mr. Ruler, Messrs. Uterback and Moore, of Farmers; Rev. Baker, of Jackson; Rev. Amos Stout, Morehead; Prof. Nicholson, of Corbin; Miss Knight, of Sharpburg, and many others, will be an educational institution without a second of its grade in the South, and these faithful ones may yet live to realize the glory of their ambition through penury, tears and prayers: Morehead, a place of refinement and culture.

We may add, this will be a mission school, fostered by Southern Baptists, and every boy or girl who desires an education will be able to get the best, whether rich or poor:
the humblest receiving the same advantages as the more favored.

We rejoice with Morehead over this inestimable acquisition.

Ralph Bingham will be at the Court-house on the evening of April 6th under auspices of the Methodist Church.

A Dance.

An impromptu dance was given at the gymnasium rooms on east Main street, on the evening of the 10th. It was a very enjoyable occasion.
